28th March 2024

Dear

Further to our previous correspondence regarding your request for the following information:

- 1) What is the legal framework, if any, for the wording change from 'Equality, Diversity, & Inclusion' to 'Equity, Diversity, & Inclusion'?
- 2) Does AWE enforce its own agenda on ED&I or does it take the directional leadership from government or charities such as, but not limited to, Stonewall?
- 3) As a signatory of the '30% Club', how can a company 'take action to increase gender diversity at board and execute committee levels' without knowingly and/or actively discriminating against men?
- 4) I request data for the following period of time, by year from 2015 to the present date (2024):
- Number of graduate and apprentice applicants, displayed as a total and separately by race and gender/sex.
- Number of graduate and apprentice interviews, displayed as a total and separately by race and gender/sex.
- Number of offers made to graduates and apprentices, displayed as a total and separately by race and gender/sex.
- Number of applicants who started their respective programs, displayed as a total and separately by race and gender.
- Your request has been handled as a request for information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (the Act).

Your request has been handled as a request for information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (the Act). A search for the requested information within the Atomic Weapons Establishment (AWE) has now been completed, and we can confirm that information in scope of your request is held.

We will address each of your questions in turn:

1) What is the legal framework, if any, for the wording change from 'Equality, Diversity, & Inclusion' to 'Equity, Diversity, & Inclusion'?

This information is not held in a recorded format, however, under Section 16, duty to provide advice and assistance, it may be helpful to note that AWE referred to the work as "Diversity & Inclusion". In 2023 the senior leader accountable for Diversity and Inclusion, added "Equity" to the title, which is common practice in business.

2) Does AWE enforce its own agenda on ED&I or does it take the directional leadership from government or charities such as, but not limited to, Stonewall? AWE created the ED&I strategy and associated agenda using insight from employees, taking best practice from wider UK business and learning from leading diversity organisations. AWE does not take directional leadership from government or charities such as Stonewall.

3) As a signatory of the '30% Club', how can a company 'take action to increase gender diversity at board and execute committee levels' without knowingly and/or actively discriminating against men?

This information is not held in a recorded format, however under Section 16, duty to provide advice and assistance, it may be helpful to note that AWE's approach to increasing gender diversity, is to attract a diverse range of candidates from a variety of sectors and demographics, to ensure we have a rich and diverse talent pool to recruit from. All candidates have to meet the same standard of competence and expected experience for a role.

- 4) I request data for the following period of time, by year from 2015 to the present date (2024):
 Number of graduate and apprentice applicants, displayed as a total and separately by race and gender/sex.
- Number of graduate and apprentice interviews, displayed as a total and separately by race and gender/sex.
- Number of offers made to graduates and apprentices, displayed as a total and separately by race and gender/sex.
- Number of applicants who started their respective programs, displayed as a total and separately by race and gender.

Please see the attached, Section 40(2) has been applied to the breakdown of race in order to protect personal information as governed by the Data Protection Act 2018. The number of employees falling within this category is very low and therefore disclosure risks individuals being identifiable. Section 40(2) requires AWE to conduct a balancing exercise to consider the balance of the rights and interests of individuals against the legitimate interests in disclosure; this is not the same as carrying out the public interest test associated with certain other exemptions in the FOI Act. The balancing exercise is carried out in order to decide whether the absolute exemption in section 40(2) is engaged. In particular, there is no assumption of disclosure in the legitimate interests test, as there is with qualified exemptions. The outcome of the balancing exercise lay in withholding the number of employees falling within this category.

Please remember to quote the reference number above in any future communications. If you have any queries regarding the content of this letter, please contact this office in the first instance.

If you are unhappy with the way your request has been handled you have a right to request an internal review within 40 days of receiving this letter, by writing to information.requests@awe.co.uk or our postal address: Information Requests Team, AWE Aldermaston, Reading, RG7 4PR. If you are still unhappy after an internal review has been completed, under the provisions of Section 50 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 you have the right to take your complaint to the Information Commissioner's Office. Please note the Commissioner will generally not consider a complaint until you have exhausted AWE's internal complaints process.

Yours sincerely,

AWE Information Requests Team
